

REPORT OF THE MICHIGAN DEANERY TO THE 55th DIOCESAN ASSEMBLY OF THE DIOCESE OF THE MIDWEST
OCTOBER 11, 2016

Following a deliberate effort over nearly three decades, all shared activities of the Michigan Deanery parishes are also shared with other OCA and pan-Orthodox parish communities. The four parishes in the metropolitan Detroit area (Holy Transfiguration in Livonia, Holy Trinity in Detroit, St. Mark in Rochester Hills and Ss. Peter and Paul Cathedral in Detroit) worship, outreach, celebrate and minister with others in the Council of Orthodox Christian Churches. The COCC, under the auspices of the St. John Chrysostom clergy brotherhood, is also the umbrella organization for the Orthodox Christian Women of Michigan (OCWM) and the Orthodox Detroit Outreach (ODO). There is also a FOCUS North America presence and, most recently, a local chapter of Zoe for life. Deanery parishes and personnel are among the leading participants in the collective activity.

The two western parishes (Holy Ascension in Albion and St. Demetrius in Jackson) also share their lives with other Orthodox Christian parishes from Lansing, Grand Rapids, and Battle Creek with the monastery of the Holy Dormition (Romanian OCA) in Rives Junction often being the focal point.

In the fall of last year a discussion began among His Grace, Bishop Paul, the Michigan Deanery Dean, Fr. Paul Albert, and others. The Cathedral Parish of Ss. Peter and Paul in Detroit had been offering its facilities to the Orthodox Detroit Outreach each Sunday for the purpose of serving a meal to impoverished and homeless neighborhood members. Up to one hundred souls were gathering each Sunday at the Cathedral hall to be fed a hot meal.

What if we could feed them more than bread?

With the blessing of Bishop Paul and the support of both the Diocesan Council and Mission committee a “Missionary Outreach” in the Southwest Detroit neighborhood surrounding the Cathedral of Ss. Peter and Paul was begun. Combined funding from the Diocese of the Midwest, the parishes of the Michigan Deanery and the Cathedral parish of Ss. Peter and Paul was gathered to provide a more stable pastoral presence in the person of Fr. Paul Albert. This unprecedented (for us) effort has been in operation for the past nine months. Fr. Paul’s report on the first seven months follows this document.

We in the Michigan Deanery are excited by this opportunity. We ask for your prayers and support as it continues.

V. Rev. Andrew Yavornitzky, Michigan Deanery Dean

Seven Month Report to Detroit Deanery/Diocese of the Midwest, OCA
A pastoral perspective on the missionary work in SW Detroit
Saints Peter & Paul Orthodox Christian Cathedral
3810 Gilbert St. Detroit, MI

January-July 2016

Your Grace, Bishop Paul, Deanery clergy, Diocese clergy & faithful

Glory to Jesus Christ.

First I wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to Bishop Paul, our Detroit Area Deanery parishes, and all who have so graciously extended your prayers and financial support towards revitalizing the inner-city missionary vision and work which is unfolding at Sts. Peter & Paul Cathedral in Detroit. For those who may not be aware, this urban parish is the oldest Orthodox Church community in the state of Michigan, and the mother church of many surrounding parishes. It has been struggling for several years with membership decline and aging facilities.

In January of 2016 His Grace, Bishop Paul sent me into the parish with a clear objective. I was not assigned to resuscitate a waning community. Rather, our vision has been to see if the existing parish can find a transformative and repurposed vision as an inner city missionary presence in SW Detroit.

To this end, the diocese has “seeded” this project by providing half of my pastoral stipend for 2016, and the Deanery has provided 25% of the same, with the parish providing 25%. It is our hope that this help and support will continue for 2017.

Please keep in mind that I began this assignment in January 2016 after the parish had gone about 8 years without a pastoral presence, being serviced during that period by an elderly Romanian Priest who was primarily there to serve Sunday Liturgy. The parish had been in survival mode for 8 years, consisting of about 30 adults, who were concentrating on maintaining the campus buildings and paying down debt.

The first seven months serving as the parish & missionary priest has been focused on ministering to the few and faithful remnant, preaching and teaching, refreshing their spirit. We are gently beginning to articulate (through the core leadership of Parish Council and in Sunday homilies) a sense of this RENEWED VISION of the cathedral becoming a missionary presence in the inner city. Our missionary focus has also been formative and edifying for the missionary participants joining us from the Deanery parishes. I cannot thank Fr. Andrew Yavornitzky enough (dean of Detroit Deanery) for his help and support. He, along with Bishop PAUL have been prayerfully committed to helping us clarify and articulate the vision of a cooperative Deanery missionary project in SW Detroit.

During these seven months, I have also been providing spiritual direction for Orthodox Detroit Outreach, a separate pan-Orthodox entity serving the neighborhood poor at the Sts. Peter & Paul Community Center adjacent to the Cathedral. ODO has a mission to help provide an opportunity for the Orthodox in the greater Detroit area to serve Christ in the poor. Currently almost 20 Orthodox parishes in greater Detroit area (pan-jurisdictional) participate in our weekly Sunday Afternoon Meal ministries.

During the first half of 2016 here is what we are seeing:

1) The spiritual life of the community is rekindling. We are gradually moving towards a healthier rhythm of liturgical/sacramental activity, keeping our small numbers in mind as to not begin with unrealistic expectations. One of the most encouraging experiences in this regard is the shared experience of celebrating the Eucharistic Liturgy at the Lord's Table on Sunday, and then experiencing the extension and continuation of this Eucharistic celebration at the Sunday afternoon neighborhood meal. The rhythm and spiritual continuity of the day has been most edifying for our local "missionaries" who join us from the other Deanery parishes.

2) Community Center- part of our renewed core vision based on co-operative missionary outreach

Our current ministries and programs residing at our parish campus include:

Orthodox Detroit Outreach-whose mission is to help provide for the faithful in the Greater Detroit area an opportunity to serve the poor.

Head Start Program serving our neighborhood youth as they prepare to enter school.

Kitchen Connect Program providing opportunity for chef entrepreneurs; in affiliation with Eastern Market.

Keep Growing Detroit, a city wide Urban Agriculture Network has a hub at our Center for education and distribution to local community gardeners.

Zoe for Life provides guidance and help for pregnant women.

The Sunday afternoon meal at the Community Center usually hosts about 80-120 guests. Organized by Orthodox Detroit outreach, this ministry has been developing in our parish Community center for about four years.

An important observation to be offered is that over the past few years, the weekly gathering for the neighborhood meal has coalesced into a "community" where we pray with one another, and better know our neighbors. They also see the Sunday communal meal as "church" and are gradually becoming more at home with our faith and practices. The names of almost all of our neighborhood guests are at my holy Altar and are included in our ongoing prayers at Divine Services along with the parishioners.

Many of the typical parish ministerial concerns and activities also seem to apply as we minister with our neighbors: birth, death, sickness, suffering, issues with the children, physical and spiritual healing and comfort, visitation, etc. It seems to me that the Lord is drawing this group together so that we all might experience Him in our midst-especially where love is shared among us all. This unique neighborhood ministry is providing for the Orthodox volunteers a classroom in which we practice our theology and Faith is witnessed through works.

Plans for this Fall 2016-Spring 2017:

Capital Campaign targeting the greater Detroit business community and our mission friends and supporters. Target to build better awareness of our missionary presence and vision in SW Detroit; to raise money towards Community Center Ministry/facility Developments and some debt reduction as has been incurred for Community Center upgrades.

Vision for parish development:

Encouraging potential for next 5 year development plan

The church campus is in a very good location for inner city ministry. Neighbors in need are on foot, and the Church and Community Center are visible and accessible to many around us who need our help. Also, the area within a fifteen minute walk/drive around us holds a diverse demographic, representing potential growth. One of our lay leaders expressed this very well: “to see in the growing congregation a good representation of our neighborhood.” This includes our 100 year-old neighborhood history (European Orthodox), homeless/low income neighbors, Spanish speaking neighbors, the thirty-something “Cork town” residents (educated, philanthropically and spiritually mindful, ‘nones’- as non-church affiliated), and Wayne State students. Add to this mix our developing missionary team participants from surrounding Orthodox churches, joining us for their spiritual enrichment and salvation.

The reason future growth is possible: MISSION FOCUSED CONGREGATION

Celebrating our Incarnational theology: God is with us. We hope to be vitaly present in the inner city with a clear and focused mission. As Orthodox Christian missionaries we will be present, witnessing our faith holistically as a sacramental /worshipping community, with a core vision focused the works of mercy, serving Christ in our neighbor.

Average monthly Income towards operating costs:

Donations from members, missionaries, guests:	$6,550.00
Rental Income: School /Head Start	$4,700.00
Kitchen Connect/Hall Rentals/ministries	$4,500.00
	<hr/>
	$15,700.00

Average monthly expenses towards operating costs:

All church/center overhead typical:	$12,000.00
Current Bond Payment	$ 4,600.00
	<hr/>
	- $16,600.00

Average monthly net for Jan.-July 2016 -$ 900.00 (average monthly loss)

Current Bank Balance of Unrestricted cash on hand for church operations: $30,000.00

In addition to average monthly expenditures, we have expended from savings for non-reoccurring building repairs in 2016 (major roof replacements/repairs) $57,200.00

Moving forward from here:

When we began this missionary project in January 2016, it was self-evident that the parish numbers were below the long term financial survival threshold. As seen in the financial snapshot, the 35 adult members are almost “maintaining” the facilities, but incapable of sustaining a full time priest and the other necessities for the next stages of parish/missionary development. The current Bond Payments ($4600/monthly) will be completed by the end of 2019, positively affecting our monthly budget.

Our initial vision included seeing the Deanery and Diocese provide financial help to the parish for a pastoral presence /priest to guide the missionary development at this juncture. This needs to continue, God willing and Diocese/deanery willing, for at least another few years.

Parish growth is essential, but requires, in our case, incremental steps towards that end.

The dynamics of parish growth and development will for us require repurposing of the parish core vision to be a missionary congregation whose campus facilities are dedicated to achieving the missionary purpose and ministries specific to that core vision. This will then be a missionary parish setting that others will want to join. We are actively working on this at present.

But there is crucial next step which we now need to take before we can construct this repurposed parish with a core vision of missionary community.

For 2017 this involves working with the deanery priests to ensure each deanery parish forms a “mission team” that would be committed to participating in Sunday morning worship at Sts. Peter and Paul, as well as the flow of the day into the afternoon neighborhood meal and ministries. Rhythm and regularity in this regard allows the missionaries to actually enter relationships with their fellow missionaries as well as our neighbors in need. This is the first step towards “community building” in our missionary setting.

This is the crucial next step for 2017: active mission teams in each parish from which at least two committed souls from each deanery parish would actively join us as founders and developers of our collective missionary project in SW Detroit. This will help the Sts. P & P missionary parish take an important next step in presenting a little more spiritually vital congregation to inquirers and guests. This will also help move the parish to the next step of financial stability, which is also an essential element of furthering the Church’s mission in our setting. Lastly, the active and organized parish mission teams will provide an effective and proactive voice in their respective parishes. The missionary undertaking in SW Detroit will truly then become a Deanery and Diocese effort. If we can do this first in our own house (OCA) it may then be possible to look at another possible step in three to five years: seeing our Community Center become an Orthodox Christian Missionary Center in SW Detroit with a pan-Orthodox LOCAL governing board whose members comprise faithful from across the jurisdictions.

Our current and future mission: to provide the Orthodox in the greater Detroit area an opportunity to be a missionary in SW Detroit; to witness our faith holistically through a sacramental /worshipping community, with a core vision focused the works of mercy, serving Christ in our neighbor.

“For Christ’s love compels us...”
