Having passed through the water as on dry land and having escaped the malice of Egypt, the Israelite cried out: Let us sing to our Redeemer and our God.

O Lord, Creator of the vault of heaven and Builder of the Church, establish me in Thy love, O Summit of desire,

O Strength of the faithful, O only Lover of mankind.

I have heard, O Lord, the mystery of Thy providence. I have understood Thy works and have glorified Thy divinity.

Enlighten us by Thy command ments, O Lord, and by means of Thy uplifted hand

grant us Thy peace, O only

Lover of mankind.

I will pour out my prayer to the Lord, and to Him will make known my sorrows; for my soul is filled with evil and my life draws near to hell, and I will pray like Jonah: raise me up, O God, from corruption.

Having arrived in Babylon from Judaea,

the youths, by their faith in the Trinity, trod down the flames of the furnace, singing: O

God of our fathers, blessed art Thou.
The King of Heaven, whom the host of angels exalt, praise and exalt Him throughout all ages.
Saved through you, O pure Virgin, we confess you to be the Theotokos, and with the bodiless choirs we magnify you.

The Canon - Refrains

Paraklisis

Carpathian Chant
arr. Archbishop Job (Osacky)

Refrain 1:

Most holy Theotokos, save us.

Refrain 2:

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Refrain 3:

Now and ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Refrain 4 (Extended Ending):

Now and ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.
