SERAPHIM DANCKAERT, Director of Mission Advancement, St. Tikhon's Seminary

Many people have opinions about why a large number of teenagers and young adults leave the Church. But did you know that sociologists of religion at the University of Notre Dame and elsewhere have conducted major longitudinal studies of thousands of American young people, revealing what makes a difference in raising children who stick with the faith? Find out what the evidence shows, and learn practical steps you can take to make a difference in the lives of your children, grandchildren, and parish community.

Seraphim Danckaert is Director of Mission Advancement at St. Tikhon's Seminary. He and his wife, Anne, have four young children, and he is writing a book about young people in the Orthodox Church. His most recent publication is On the Tree of the Cross: Georges Florovsky and the Patristic Doctrine of Atonement (Jordanville, 2016).
