

THE CALL TO REVIVE THE FEMALE DIACONATE: Thirty Years After Rhodes

SATURDAY,
NOVEMBER 3, 2018
1 to 5 PM

Saints Peter & Paul Greek
Orthodox Church
1401 Wagner Rd,
Glenview, (Chicago) IL 60025

SPEAKER: Teva Regule, Ph.D.

"The Female Diaconate in the Orthodox Church?
The State of the Question"

PANELISTS: Randa Karadsheh Anderson, Ph.D.,
Carrie Frederick Frost, Ph.D., Deacon Perry Hamalis, Ph.D.

In 1988, Ecumenical Patriarch Demetrios I convened an International Orthodox consultation in Rhodes, Greece to explore the ministry and Ordination of women in the Orthodox Church. Notable among its concluding recommendations was the call to revive the female diaconate.

In honor of the 30th anniversary of this consultation, this event will summarize the history of the multiple calls for the revival of the female diaconate, discuss developments in more recent years, and reflect on ways this important ministry can help build up Christ's Church.

Read the document Conclusions of the InterOrthodox Consultation on the Place of the Woman in the Orthodox Church and the Question of the Ordination of Women at orthodoxdeaconess.org/events.

AGENDA

1-2:30pm Speaker with Q&A
2:30-3pm Break/Refreshments
3-5pm Panel with Q&A
5pm Vespers

Panelist Discussion:

- Why ordination?
- How can a revived male and female diaconate build up the Body of Christ?
- Is NOW the time?

FREE-WILL OFFERING AT THE DOOR

Hosted by the St. Phoebe Center for the Deaconess and the Saint Catherine Institute for Orthodox Christian Studies